ANCESTRAL QUEST™ 14

The Natural Upgrade for PAF 5

Personal Ancestral File® (PAF) 5 is essentially a slightly modified older version of Ancestral Quest (AQ). In 1999, Incline Software licensed a copy of Ancestral Quest 3.0 to the LDS Church, and with a few modifications, PAF 4 was introduced as the first Windows version of PAF. Since that time, PAF evolved into PAF 5, and Ancestral Quest has also evolved. AQ 14 has virtually all the features of PAF 5, but has so much more. A user of PAF 5 will feel right at home with AQ 14, as most screens are very similar if not identical. The basic flow of entering families, individuals, notes, sources, and printing reports as well as handling maintenance tasks (such as working with GEDCOM files and filters) are all about the same.

Database Conversion. You won't even have to convert your file. AQ 14 uses the same .paf data file that is used by your PAF 5 program. You can continue to use PAF 5 along with AQ 14 if you so desire.

Features. Below is a partial list of the new and improved features you will be able to enjoy with AQ 14. But remember, the basic features of AQ 14 are about the same as the basic features of PAF 5, so you'll feel right at home while enjoying all of these new improvements.

FamilySearch™ Family Tree. Ancestral Quest has features to allow you to synchronize your AQ or PAF database directly with the FamilySearch Family Tree database and directly reserve temple ordinances for individuals in your file. AQ 14 is certified by FamilySearch to access and update this database and reserve LDS temple ordinances. If you prefer to continue to use PAF 5 rather than upgrade to AQ 14, AQ 14 is a FamilySearch certified PAF add-in. Use AQ 14 along side of PAF to synchronize your PAF database with FamilySearch Family Tree.
